

WATER COMMISSION

By Lewis Griswold

July 5, 2016

Kayode Kadara of Allensworth, a low-income community in southwest Tulare County, has been appointed to the Tulare County Water Commission.

HE CAN TELL THE STORY OF WATER ISSUES IN DISADVANTAGED COMMUNITIES. HE BRINGS CREDIBILITY. HE'S LIVING IT.

Allen Ishida, Tulare County Board of Supervisors

The commission advises the Tulare County Board of Supervisors on water issues.

Tulare County Supervisor Allen Ishida, chairman of the commission, said he appointed Kadara because of his experience and background in water quality problems that plague so many small towns.

"He can tell the story of water issues in disadvantaged communities," Ishida said. "He brings credibility. He's living it."

Kadara serves on the Allensworth school board, the Tri-County Water Authority board, Deer Creek Storm Water board and the board of directors of Self-Help Enterprises.